Traveling Some

The following is a copy of the wording of a Post Card, which is post-marked "New York, Hudson, Terminal Sta. Jul. 14 12 P M 1916", signed R. M. B., same being Dr. Butler, Supt. Miss. In same Hospital:

Dear Strat:—
Altho I am a long way from home and in the greatest city in America, there is no place or people like Liberty and her people, the dearest on earth to me. I am having a delightful time. Will go to Washington via steamer to Norfolk and N. P. News up Chesapeake Bay and Potomac River, about next Tuesday. Will visit Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and Louisville, reaching Jackson about Aug. 1st. Visit Toronto via steamer from Niagara Falls, Tuesday. I am
Your friend, R. M. B.

Above Post Card contained a picture of "Times Square," New York City. Times Square is formed by the intersection of Seventh Avenue and Broadway at 42nd street. It is in the heart of the New York theatrical district, this part of Broadway being known as "The Great White Way." The Times office building is about 21 stories, of the "Flatiron" style.

East Fork News.

Mr. Nett Wilson spent Sunday with home folks here.

Quite a crowd from here attended the meeting at Robinson.

Mr. Will Wilson has his telephone since last week.

Miss Mignome Wilson is spending the week with friends near Marshallton this week.

Every one is invited to attend our meeting second Sunday.

Mrs. Lorena Spheres who has been very ill is reported better.

Henry Allen Westbrook Hung

At exactly 10:04 o'clock Friday morning, July 14th, 1916, A. J. Causey, Sheriff of Amite County Miss., hung Henry Allen Westbrook, for the double murder of C. C. Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland his Father-in-law and Mother-in-law, which occurred on the 28th day of June 1915. The hanging was private, only those permitted by law, were allowed. Those present were A. J. Causey, Sheriff, E. D. Matthews, Geo. C. Bates, W. B. Jenkins, Deputies, Rev. B. L. McKee, Dr. T. E. Hewitt, Dr. M. P. Bates, and W. W. Sterling, Jailor.

Westbrook was calm and composed all through the proceedings. He made a talk from the front jail window to a crowd of about 200 people who had congregated in and around the court yard, in which talk he warned young men and boys against sin, and admonished them to obey their parents. Said if he had taken the advice of his mother, even five years ago, he would not be in trouble today. Said he had committed a great crime, had asked forgiveness and had been forgiven.

Last June when this tragedy occurred there was considerable excitement in the country, and Judge R. E. Jackson called a special term of Circuit Court to try the case, and Westbrook was found guilty. He appealed to Supreme Court but the findings of lower court were sustained and he was sentenced to hang June 9th. Governor Bilbo granted him a respite from June 9th to July 14th, to allow him to petition the pardoning board to commute sentence from death to life imprisonment, which was refused by the Board.

This was the first legal hanging in Amite County since 1867, when Bares Cox, a negro was hung one mile south of Liberty on the road leading to Centerville, for the murder of his father, whom he knocked in the head with an ax, the old man at the time being asleep under a tree, during the noon hour.

The Magnolia Gazette seems to have been informed of a lot of supposed sensational stuff about this sad affair that is not true, but will possibly be reproduced and quoted as correct until the end of time.

Sheriff Causey did take the prisoner to the barber shop, but Westbrook was not handcuffed, nor did he get a face massage. He didn't get a black suit, but purchased a light Palm Beach, nor did he spend an hour going around town telling his friends good-bye. He had neither friends nor enemies in Liberty. The Sheriff not only had no guard with him, but was not even armed when he carried the prisoner to the barber shop, and we do not think it true that Westbrook pulled the lever and tried the trap door to see if it worked alright.

While a comparative few came to town thru morbid curiosity, the majority of our people looked upon the unpleasant duty as a funeral, and trust that the like, and cause therefor, will never occur again.

School Board Resolution

Liberty, Miss., June 24th, 1916. State of Mississippi, Amite County.

Whereas it does appear to the school Board of said County, now session, that the one and two teacher Rural schools have served their day and purpose, and that it is the opinion of said school Board of aforesaid that all Rural schools should be consolidated wherever practicable, therefore.

Be it Resolved: That this School Board do now and here Consolidate all the Rural Schools wherever practicable in said County, and that such Consolidations shall stand, unless the patrons interested shall come before said School Board at its next regular session and show a legal cause, or a just reason why such consolidations should not be made.

Good Roads Picnic!

Liberty, Miss., Thursday, the 20th Day of July

Everybody Invited! Come and bring a Big Basket well filled with good things to eat. Bring the family; boost Good Roads!

Nothing builds up a country like Good Roads. They mean greater land values, greater increase of population, more to pay taxes, more to cultivate the idle acres, means consolidated and better schools, longer terms, better education; more to pay taxes means less taxes.

Good Roads will not only bring this, but will put you in closer touch with your neighbors, puts you closer to town, makes your teams more efficient, makes the loads lighter, and reduces the mud tax. Good Speakers, including Gov. Bilbo, invited. Good Music, Plenty of Refreshments and a good time insured to every one.

Remember the Date and Place—Liberty, Miss., July 20.

Good Roads Parade at 10 o'clock

Come, Boost your County and Good Roads.

Receiving this week a nice line of all kinds of canned goods, staple and fancy groceries.—H. M. Cruise.

Messrs Eugene and Ed Cowdin of Texas were Liberty visitors this week, having left here 38 years ago. They were adjudged by the recent Chancery Court as heirs to property of Miss Dora Eggleston. Very few people of near their own age left living here, but some who were children when they left this, their old home, remembered and recognized them.

Barney Lee Toler, the little son of Lonnie Toler, was brought into Dr. Bates' office Friday evening last suffering from a severe wound in the front part of the head caused by the kick of a young mule, which narrowly missed one eye. Friday previous Mr. Toler brought Jim Cunningham in the same buggy suffering from a saw cut above the left knee. Both patients are doing well.

Stings or bites of insects that are followed by swellings, pain or itching should be treated promptly as they are poisonous. BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT counteracts the poison. It is both antiseptic and healing. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all Dealers.
